Reference

Mr. Michael Ebenstein, born on 1999-10-13, began working for our company on 2021-06-14.

From 2021-06-14 to 2021-09-18 Mr. Ebenstein worked as Trainee in our department Vehicle Perception.

He primarily fulfilled the following activities:

- Researching literature on Self-supervised learning for depth estimation, semantic segmentation and supervised depth estimation
- Organizing and executing workshops on image-based depth estimation and transformers
- Implementing and evaluating state-of-the-art depth estimation models
- Implementing methods for sensor data fusion and 3D-2D projection of lidar point clouds
- Configuring a GPU cluster development environment
- Giving tutorial on data-driven software development on a GPU cluster

Mr. Ebenstein displayed initiative at all times and impressed us with his very keen motivation to work. He consistently proved himself to be an assiduous employee with a very good ability to work under pressure, and he handled all of his assignments very well, even under difficult working conditions. His exceptional intellectual grasp enabled him to quickly and successfully familiarise himself with new assignments at all times. Mr. Ebenstein was in possession of extensive specialist knowledge across a broad spectrum of disciplines. Mr. Ebenstein impressed us with the consistently high quality of his work. The scope and pace of his work greatly exceeded our expectations at all times. He could always be relied upon to complete his jobs independently, with the utmost care and great reliability. He always completed his assignments to our utmost satisfaction.

Mr. Ebenstein was a responsible and respected employee who always had a very good working relationship with his superiors and colleagues. Owing to his high level of professional performance and exceptional social skills, he very quickly earned the respect and full recognition of his colleagues. His excellent team skills and ability to cooperate with others were highly valued and recognised by all. We must emphasise that he worked very well with our customers at all times, always responding to their wishes in a flexible and service-oriented manner. His conduct towards superiors, colleagues, other employees and customers was always exemplary.
